“ How I remember my aunt Eva... When I think of her in my thoughts...she was prettier than Eva Gabor and had more class than Jacqueline Kennedy and had a heart as beautiful as an Angel. I remember my aunt Eva always wearing red lipstick and all of the kids being able to push her buttons... She would always remain a lady even when she was getting after us... even when she was yelling at us (didn't understand one word she was saying but...lol)When she would watch my sisters and I ...I felt very safe and very loved...like we were her own children.I remember one day when my mom and dad split up ...we were staying at her home and my dad came in the house in the middle of the night to steal us away from my mom ...I was crying and it woke my aunt Eva up .I was scared for her not knowing what my dad would do to her when he was taking us out the door... no worries my aunt Eva wasn't afraid... she fought him... I believe she would have protected us even if it meant giving up her own life. I remember her always loving the Lord...I remember her pretty smile...even when she was sad... My aunt Eva was a good person and had a heart of gold... even to the people who were mean to her. I regret not visiting her this past year when she asked my mom and I to visit... I will miss her deeply... most of these memories are from when I was a kid. (Good memories from when I was a kid.....)I love you aunt Eva...say "hello" for me in heaven... to my grandma ,my grandpa ,my great grandma and my uncle Gary ,my uncle Jim and my uncle Robbie...tell them all I love them.
