“ I worked with John at Valeron for 10 years. From time to time we travelled together for work. We went to dinner at a place I researched called Matten Fez- a Moroccan restaurant. John, a meat and potatoes guy at heart, sat on the floor cushions with me, eating a strange assortment of food w/fingers in place of utensils. We couldn't swear to it, but we thought the appetizers contained marijuana! We laughed all through dinner and had a great time. John told this story often. He was a great sport and a heck of a nice guy!

Played sports, in the old days, against John and always enjoyed talking with him about those games and people we played with whenever I would see him. Nice guy and sorry for for his family.
