

Lloyd Embry

March 4, 1925 - May 21, 2014

Lloyd Embry, age 89, of Southgate, passed away May 21, 2014 at the Evangelical Homes of Michigan Long Term Care Center in Saline. Lloyd died moments after prayers were offered by his sons, Dale and Ron and his wife Marjorie kissed him and whispered love and assurances in his ear. Marjorie had faithfully kept vigil with him for the duration of his care. Lloyd was a man of many passions. He loved to fly, serving in the Army Air Corps during WWII until honorably discharged in 1945. He immediately pursued another passion, baseball, and pitched Class A ball for teams in Detroit. At one time, he pitched $23 \frac{2}{3}$ consecutive innings and earned the nickname, "Iron Arm Embry" among his teammates. He was also an avid outdoorsman, loving to hunt, fish and golf. In 1948, he married Marjorie Jean Antrobus, of River Rouge, his true love and passion. They had three sons, Ron, Craig and Dale to whom he was a great Dad, coach and fan. He loved his family and celebrated 66 years of marriage with Marjorie. Lloyd was a professional sales person, building his career on helping others "get just what they needed and wanted."

Lloyd is survived by wife, Marjorie, their sons, Ron, Craig and Dale and their wives, Faith, Elizabeth and Cindy, Grandchildren, Lauren and Jim, Alexandra and David, Brian and Steven and Great Grand Daughter, Scarlett. Lloyd was a wonderful man, devoted husband and father and he will be missed.
